

Richard CHARKIN

Executive Director of Bloomsbury Publishing Inc.

Biography:

Richard Charkin is a Director of Bloomsbury Publishing Plc group whose authors include J.K.Rowling, Khaled Hosseini, Jonathan Littell, Ingo Schulz, John Irving, William Boyd and many others. He is responsible for Bloomsbury's publishing activities in UK, USA and Germany (through Berlin Verlag). He is also a non-executive director of Melbourne University Publishing in Australia, John Wisden (the world's leading cricket book publisher): and the Institute of Physics Publishing

. He is a member of the Strategy Advisory Board of the British Library; a member of the UK's Literary Heritage Group; a Trustee and former Chairman of Common Purpose International ; Council member and former President of the Publishers Association; and Visiting Professor at the University of the Arts London (<http://www.arts.ac.uk/>). He was Chair of the Trustees of the Whitechapel Art Gallery and Chair of the Society of Bookmen.

He has held senior positions at Macmillan, part of Verlagsgruppe Georg von Holtzbrinck; Current Science Group; Reed Elsevier; and Oxford University Press.

He has an MA in Natural Sciences from Trinity College, Cambridge; was a Supernumerary Fellow of Green College, Oxford; and attended the Advanced Management Program at the Harvard Business School.

His blog was <http://charkinblog.macmillan.com>

